REPORT OF THE BOARD

To the Commissioner of Education:

The joys and values of reading and the important place of libraries in our democratic society were saluted officially across the nation during the first National Library Week, March 16-22, 1958. In a unique joint message released to mark the opening of this "first", Herbert Hoover and Harry S. Truman, the two living ex-presidents declared that "the right to think means the right to read", and reminded Americans that "print is our passport to truth". The Division Director served as an Adviser to the State Committee on National Library Week.

The past fiscal year has been one of steady achievement in the Division of Library Extension. The demands upon the public services of this agency have continued to increase. New activities and programs made possible by the federal grant-in-aid have broadened the scope of responsibilities and widened the sphere of influence of the state's library extension agency. It is exceedingly difficult to measure and evaluate the effectiveness of the Division's program. The following narrative report and summary outline of the office and field activities will highlight the services and activities planned either to supplement library service on the local level, or to promote study, discussion and planning for the improvement of the public, school, state and county institution libraries.

Board of Library Commissioners

In January 1958, Mr. Channing L. Bete, Board Chairman, was appointed by the U. S. Commissioner of Education to the National Advisory Committee on the Library Services Act. In this capacity, Mr. Bete will advise the U. S. Office of Education, Library Services Branch regarding problems involved in administering the federal legislation, and will consider and recommend essential studies on the values, methods and results of the library demonstrations and experiments carried on under this legislation.

Mr. Richard J. Sullivan, Secretary of the Board, was reappointed in March 1958 by Governor Foster Furcolo to another five-year term as a Library Commissioner. Mr. Sullivan is now the senior member of the Board having served as a Board member since 1942.

Library Legislation

The Massachusetts Library Development Committee held nine meetings during the year which were attended by members of the Board, the Division Director, Assistant Director, and Supervisor of Field Services. In the fall of 1957, the Committee filed with the State Legislature a bill providing for state aid to public libraries House Bill No. 1100 which was introduced by Representative Irene K. Thresher of Newton. The bill was referred to the Committee on State Administration. At the hearing held on January 20, 1958, the Division Director appeared as a proponent of the legislation which was referred by the Committee to the next annual session.

The Board of Library Commissioners went on record as proponents of House Bill 174 to extend municipal group insurance to employees of corporate libraries maintained by municipalities; and as proponents to Senate Bill 106 to provide an obscene literature control commission to assist the Attorney General in preventing the sale of obscene or other prohibited literature.

Libraries Services Act - Public Law 597

Congress appropriated $5,000,000 for the implementation of the Library Services Act in fiscal 1958. This state's allotment was the basic $40,000 plus $38,487 or a total of $78,487 which had to be earned by a matching expenditure from state funds of $98,645 for the extension of public library service to rural areas.

Bookmobile service began to roll through the twenty-five rural communities served by the Northeast Regional Library Center in January 1958; and the bookmobile is now on a regular monthly schedule of local library and neighborhood stops.

Over thirty-five percent (35%) of the total allotment of federal funds was allocated to the purchase of books and related materials since the state appropriation for books has been hopelessly inadequate.

In October 1957, the Division began the publication of a Monthly News Letter. Later in the year, the appearance of this mimeographed publication was improved considerably by the production of a printed masthead in tri-color. This publication has been received with warm enthusiasm by local librarians. The editors have also been the recipients of many laudatory letters concerning it from other state library extension agencies.

Federal funds made possible the addition of a Public Library Specialist to the Division's professional staff. Marie T. Sullivan was appointed to the position. In addition to doing advisory and consultative work with librarians and trustees of rural area libraries, Miss Sullivan is also co-editor of the Monthly News Letter.

Mr. Wilfred Morin, Library Extension Specialist at the U. S. Office of Education, Library Services Branch visited the Division in October, 1957 and again in April, 1958 to discuss the progress of the State Plan for use of federal funds.

Public Library Development - Facts and Figures

Statistical reports for the calendar year 1957 were received from 353 of the state's 391 public libraries. Of the 38 libraries which did not submit a report, 28 are in communities of less than 5,000 inhabitants. The statewide per capita income for public library service was $2.78; and the per capita circulation was 5.8 volumes. We did some statistical gymnastics with the per capita figures which should immediately point-up the unevenness of public library service in this state. The per capita public library income figures on all the state's communities of over 10,000 inhabitants is $2.99. The per capita income for the state's communities of under 10,000 inhabitants is $1.71. The tabulation below shows just how things line up per capitawise by population groupings:

Population Group	Number of Libraries Reporting	Per Capita Library Income	Per Capita Range High	Low
100,000 and over	5 of 5	$4.43	$5.85	.83
50,000 - 99,999	14 of 14	2.35	5.95	.88
25,000 - 49,999	26 of 28	2.28	4.20	.79
10,000 - 24,999	59 of 67	2.25	5.44	.23
5,000 - 9,999	67 of 67	1.73	5.96	.12
2,000 - 4,999	97 of 110	1.72	8.80	.05
0 - 1,999	25 of 100	1.69	13.75	.29

An important milestone in public library progress was reached when the State Library Association at its mid-winter meeting in 1958 adopted a statement on "systems" of libraries taken from the 1956 national standards of the American Library Association as a long-range objective of libraries in this state; and endorsed a set of state minimum standards for hours of service, book collections and personnel. In cooperation with regional library clubs and the Massachusetts Library Trustees Association, the Division has planned and directed four joint discussion meetings on "Systems"--the new approach to libraries and public library service.

The American Library Association's new national standards for public libraries have as their central theme the cooperative approach. The State Plan for the use of federal funds has as one of its over-all objectives: the stimulation and initiation of contracts with larger libraries--to utilize existing well-stocked and professionally-staffed libraries to the fullest in building improved library services in the smaller communities. The inter-library cooperation picture in this state is brightest in the field of inter-library loans. There is one very commendable and noteworthy effort in the area of cooperative purchasing of library supplies in Worcester County spear-headed by the Worcester and Fitchburg Public Libraries. In other areas of the state can be found a few spotty evidences of areas of cooperation in exchange of special book collections, rotation of exhibits, etc. The Division's staff are directing their efforts constantly toward the stimulation of cooperative activity among public libraries but in the long run and home stretch the local librarians and library trustees can do infinitely more in initiating cooperative action than any outside agency.

In fiscal 1958, the Division was able to supply 84% of the books requested on inter-library loan either from its own collection or through the public libraries in Arlington, Boston, Brookline, Lynn, Newton, Cambridge, Watertown, Springfield and New Bedford. Special libraries which cooperated in the inter-library loan activities are American Optical Company, American Antiquarian Society, Grand Lodge of Masons, Little Brown, Insurance Library Association of Boston, Boston University, Boston Conservatory of Music, Wentworth Institute, Boston College, Harvard College, Suffolk University and Massachusetts Institute of Technology. An experiment in decentralization of inter-library loan was instituted in January with Springfield and New Bedford Public Libraries agreeing to supply titles not available at the Division to the towns in the Western and Southeastern Regions of the State. In addition, titles which are not available in cooperating libraries are listed in the News Letter. This idea has met with enthusiastic response and a considerable number of titles have been located through this medium of advertising and lent to the requesting library by libraries large, small and special all over the state.

Placement and Certification of Librarians

An examination for the certification of professional librarians was given on November 20, 1957. Of the twenty-one candidates who took the written test, nineteen passed and were issued certificates as professional librarians on the basis of examination. During the year, two professional certificates were awarded on the basis of graduation from an accredited library school and three sub-professional certificates were issued.

With the Division's referral service on placement of librarians were registered 83 librarians or persons interested in library positions and 55 position vacancies.

Massachusetts Library Aid Association

The Division Director as Chairman of the Committee on Aid to Libraries of the M. L. A. A. planned for and directed the expenditure of $750 which provided scholarships of $75 each to librarians or library assistants in Dudley, Halifax, Ipswich, Lynnfield, Pembroke, Plainfield, Plainville, Shelburne, Uxbridge and West Boxford. The scholarship recipients attended the three weeks summer session course in elementary library techniques offered at the University of New Hampshire.

Five hundred dollars was spent on books for the libraries at the Massachusetts Correctional Institution at Walpole and Concord. The books were selected, purchased and processed by the Division's Chief of Book Services.

Massachusetts Library Aid Association funds were also used to defray the instructional cost for the course in Reference Work which was given at the Fitchburg Public Library from March 25 to May 27, 1958 by Miss Evelyn Weachter. The course was successfully completed by twenty-seven librarians and library assistants employed in small community libraries in the area.

School Libraries

The future of public school libraries on both the elementary and secondary levels is steadily strengthening. Feeble beginnings are being nurtured by the increased understanding and support of local school authorities and administrators. Many inert school library situations are being reactivated. The Division provided leadership and service in this important area through office consultations, school visits and correspondence. Corollary help in planning the physical facilities for new school libraries has been extended through three school library films which the Division owns and circulates. The importance of and standards of good library service have been projected in talks to school administrators, teachers and parent-teacher organizations.

Work with Other Agencies

In carrying out the Division's responsibility to improve statewide library service, the staff has reported activities and cooperation with many agencies and groups that hold similar or related interests. Among these are: Massachusetts Library Association, Massachusetts Library Trustees Association, Massachusetts Library Aid Association, all the regional library clubs and groups, the Division of University Extension, the Division of Elementary and Secondary Education, the Division of Teachers Colleges, the Massachusetts Department of Correction, the Commission on the Audit of State Needs, the Massachusetts Council for Aging, the General Federation of Women's Clubs, Care, the World Affairs Council, National Book Committee, Adult Education Association, New England Citizens Crime Commission, New England Library Association Recruiting Committee, WGBH-TV, Simmons College School of Library Science, American Library Association, U. S. Department of Labor, Massachusetts Department of Commerce.

Facing the Future

The Division's staff deserves plaudits from all sides for performing their job responsibilities so well this year under extremely difficult and most inefficient working conditions. Prior to the federal grant program the Division's space problem at 200 Newbury Street was a serious one. An expanded program of services and activities was inaugurated with the funds allocated under the Library Services Act. The impact of this accelerated program has further aggravated a situation which had already reached the critical stage. To place the continuance of the Division's present program on an efficient basis and to allow for further widening of areas of present activities and services, additional appropriations must be made to provide this agency with more adequate headquarters.
